

Tune-In Guitar Lessons - Rates & Lesson Policy

Tune-In Guitar Lessons offers a professional and well established guitar tuition service to enable the student to progress in their guitar ability to reach their personal goals, and development.

The majority of lessons will be held at the home address provided, but there are options to arrange for home tuition based upon a higher lesson rate to cover travel costs.

The tuition room is set up to a professional standard with all equipment necessary to provide excellent quality study throughout the full time of your lesson, including use of guitar, equipment, and learning resources including take home copies.

I have obtained my bachelor honours degree in music, my working with children check and national Australian police checks to show my authenticity if required upon arrival of first lesson.

I also offer insight lessons into music production and studio work if you are interested in music technology and studio production then I would suggest these options to you. You will gain an inside knowledge into the basics and fundamentals behind setting up and initialising a recording session. This will be provided at a different lesson rate.

If you miss a lesson without 24 hours notice that lesson will then be forfeited. I cannot provide catch up lessons unless there are extenuating circumstances in which case would need to be discussed with your tutor.

It is down to the individual to practice their lesson material in their own time, lesson development differs from each student and progress is measured differently. It can take some time before guitar practice becomes more enjoyable, so I would advise you to not be disheartened within the first three months of lessons. Learning the guitar is a skill set that many people wish they had, so stay determined and it will show in the end product.
